

Serenity

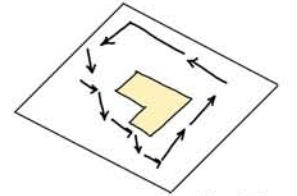

CONCEPT

Serenity remains connected to the main road in the city of Vancouver, giving an easy accessibility to the visitors to escape from their daily lives. The building form merges with the landscape providing a calm serene environment amidst the hustle of the city. It also aims for the accessibility across all age groups and across all professions by giving play areas, sports for all climates, cafe, sitout areas as well as workshop/studio for artists.

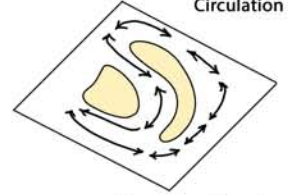

The roof form provides a walking trail from nature as well as maximum access to natural lighting. The main concept of the project remains to be invisible to the normal eyes but to best cater to the souls.
